Today's Crowd At Fair May Exceed 68,791

Business Houses In City Close In Afternoon Of Sedalia Day

It's Big Thursday at the Missouri State Fair, and thousands of persons are on the grounds to participate in activities of Sedalia, Pettis County and Springfield Day. Indications of the early arrival and the necessity of closing the front gate to automobiles at 12:30 p. m., are the attendance will be at least 65,000 and possibly will pass Wednesday's figure of 68,791.

Secretary - Manager W. E. Preston, announced today the attendance for the first five days of the fair was 251,584. This includes the extra day which was last Saturday of 20,293. Otherwise the first five corresponding days of 1951 compare with 1950 Sunday through Wednesday, with 1951 figure being 231,091 as to 1950's 194,241.

The Springfield delegation headed by Lewis W. Reps, secretary-manager of the Springfield Chamber of Commerce, arrived by bus shortly before the noon hour. There were 40 Springfieldians on the bus, and as many more came by private automobiles.

Business Houses Closed

Business establishments in Sedalia closed Thursday afternoon so their employees could go to the fair and see the thousands of wonderful exhibits, the Grand Circuit races, night show at the grandstand, the horse show or the carnival o nthe midway.

Four high school bands arrived early in the morning, and have been playing on the grounds, and a 5:45 o'clock will give a concert south of the Administration building. These bands are from Cole Camp, Ozark, Marshfield and Perry.

The visiting Springfield delegation was welcomed by Secretary-Manager W. E. Preston to which Mr. Reps explained the Springfield visitors came to Sedalia to "take in the fair" without fanfare. No set program had been p lanned.

Springfield only last week played a most succesful Ozark Empire Fair.

Large M.F.A., Exhibit

The M.F.A. exhibit under the main grandstand is one of the largest exhibits at the State Fair.

The association is giving away fans to the adults and balloons to the children.

In the exhibit are various displays which explain the different departments of the association.

In one place an automobile which has been badly wrecked is on exhibit to call attention to the automobile insurance of the organization.

All over the exhibit, however, are articles made by ruralists, such as feedsack dresses and farm products.

Daily broadcasts are made from the exhibit and a band plays on a bandstand constructed in the exhibit hourly.

Various farm products are displayed that can be found in the different M.F.A. exchanges.

This display not only serves as an advertising means for the M.F.A. but is also educational to the public.

Farm Bureau Exhibit

The Missouri Farm Bureau, which calls itself the largest farm organization in the world, has an exhibit which is located directly north of the Administration building at the Missouri State Fair.

The personnel at the exhibit is distributing free caps to the children of rural people who visit the display which has an electric train fixed on a table in back of the tent in a rural town setting.

Along the walls of the tent are posters and pictures which denote the progress made by the organization and each day the stock markets from Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City are posted on a blackboard as they change.

For the rural resident the exhibit serves as a place to stop and rest and visit with the men who are on hand to explain the workings of the organization.

Pettis County 4-H'ers Win

For the fourth time in five years, Pettis county's' "'4-H clubbers have won the Governor's plaque and the Jim Kem livestock trophy at the Missouri State Fair. Announcement of the winners was made Tuesday noon after the completion of the judging of livestock in the 4-H division.

Already having retired one of the Kem trophies, the Pettis countians now have a leg on a second trophy. A county 4-H group must win the trophy three years, not necessarily in succession, in order to get permanent posession.

Pettis county took the trophy first in 1947, repeated in 1948 and 1950. Jackson county won in 1949. That gave Pettis the first trophy.

This year's showing of beef and dairy cattle, swine and sheep won for Pettis for the first time on the new trophy.

Joe Bill Schellhardt, 14-year-old Springfield boy, put his music to good use at the Missouri State Fair and won a trophy and three

Vote White House Control On Aid Fund

Would Be Given By Senate Action On Authority

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23—(AP)—Senators voted today to give the White House general control over the new $7,499,000,000 foreign aid program.

Rejecting a house - approved proposal to turn the program over to a separate mutual security agency, the senate foreign relations and armed services committees voted 19 to 1 to divide authority among the Pentagon, state cooperation administration (ECA).

Any policy dispute, however, would be settled by the president himself, an individaul he designates for that job or by a three-member advisory board which he would name.

The arbitrators would have no connection with any other government department and would operate from the White House.

Previously President Truman had acted to give Secretary of State Acheson policy direction of the program.

The senate committees" action would bar Acheson from this role, as well as Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, Mr. Truman's foreign policy advisor, unless he severed his connection with the statea department.

The committees made their decision on administration of the aid program after going along with the house in clipping $1,000,-100,000 off the $8,500,000,000 fund which Mr. Truman had sought for it.

The House proposal to put a mutual security agency in charge of the program was opposed by administration officials.

Appears Deaths 'Honest Mistake'

PIERRE, S. 'D., Aug. 23—(AP)—'It appears like an honest mistake and it doesn't look right now if any action will be taken."

This was the statement of State's' Attorney Martin Weeks, Jr., after conferring yesterday with Attorney General Ralph A. Dunham about the deaths of two persons Aug. 15. They died after injection of the wrong drug during an experiment with sedatives at the University of South Dakota.

Weeks pointed out that an inquest is in recess pending results of analysis of body tissues of the two victims—Mrs. Ardys Pearson and Jack Clifford.

"But right now we have no facts showing any intent to kill and no intent due to any reckless activity which would give rise to criminal action." Weeks reported.

Suggest Frame-up In Break

Gen. Ridgeway Thinks It Framed Before Report Of Bombing

TOKYO, Aug. 23—(AP)—Gen Matthew B. Ridgway said tonight that Communists must have decided to break off Kaesong truce talks even before they charged an allied plane bombed the truce city.

In a statement issued at midnight (8 a. m., CST), the United Nations commander said the Red action breaking off the talks came so quickly after the alleged bombing that it mst have been decided in advance.

He said the decision could be made only by a high level of the Red command. It was delivered only a few hours after the asserted incident by a Red liaison officer.

Ridgway's words were:

"As had been brought out before, the decision to declare all meetings 'off from this time,' which required a decision from a high level command, could not have been arrived at and transmitted to Colonel Chang, Communist liaison officer, for delivery to the United Nations command liaison officers, in the interval from 2320 (11:20 p. m.) on August 22 to 0145 (1:45 a. m.) on 23 August."

It was apparent the UN commander meant that the decision to call off truce talks had been made some time before UN liaison officers were called out of their beds in the dead of night and brought to Kaesong to investigate the alleged bombing.

An earlier announcement from Ridgway's office said investigation "clearly suggests the whole incident is a frame-up, staged from first to last."

Ridgway's midnight statement actually, disclosed nothing new about the so-called bombing incident. It was mostly a repeat of what his liaison officers and others in the UN command had reported previously.

He said investigations disclosed no planes "under the Far East Air Forces control" were over Kaesong at the time the Reds say it was bombed.

No U. S. Planes Over Area

He also said investigation showed no U. S. navy planes were over the area.

Ridgway said a UN liaison team on the spot "could discover but one individual who claimed to have been an eye witness to the attack. He stated that the airplane he saw had its headlights on throughout the attack which is not the practice engaged in by any UNC (United Nations Command) aircraft during night operations."

"The alleged bombing incident revealed no damage to any building, to personnel or to crops in the area.

"Colonel (Anthony J.) Kinney, an experienced air officer, was certain that the hole, 24 inches in diameter and 12 inches deep, pointed out to him by the Communists as a result of the attack

Effort Made To 'Smoke Out' Anti-Forces

Budenz Testifies As to Article in Daily Worker

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23—(AP)—Louis Budenz today quoted Earl Browder as telling him a 1942 Communist article, aimed to "smoke out anti-Communist elements in the state department," was prepared "through arrangement" with Lauchlin Currie, then a White House aide.

At the time, Browder was head of the Communist party in the United States but has since been ousted. Budenz was then editor of the Daily Worker, Communist newspaper which published the article.

In 1945, Budenz renounced Communism and returned to the Roman Catholic church. He is now an economics teacher at Fordham University, New York, and has been an oft-heard witness at congressional hearings concerned with Communist activities.

His story today was told to the senate internal security sub-committee which is making an inquiry into whether there have been subversive influences on U. S. foreign policy.

Across the capitol, meantime, the house un-American activities committee heard further testimony from Maj. Gen. Charles A. Willoughby who began yesterday a story of Soviet spying and Communist activities in the Far East before and during World War II.

Willoughby, as army intelligence officer under Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Tokyo, gathered various documents on the case of Richard Sorge, A German who was executed by the Japanese in 1944 as head of a Soviet espionage ring.

Documents Granted

Willoughby, as army intelligence officer under Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Tokyo, gathered voluminous documents on the case of Richard Sorge, a German who was executed by the Japanese in 1944 as head of a Soviet espionage ring.

Willoughby has said Sorge was so successful that he was able to advise Moscow two months before Pearl Harbor that the Japanese were going to attack the United States.

He told the house members today that Sorge worked actively in 1941 to persuade the Japanese to move against the U. S. and Britain, rather than against Russia.

And, he said, the Russians fought hard against any discussion of the Sorge case during proceedings of the International Military Tribunal which tried Japanese war criminals after World War II.

Budenz described the 1942 Daily Worker article as the opening gun of an attack on state department figures unfriendly to the Soviet Union. He said one man the Communists wanted eliminated from the department was Patrick J. Hurley, then ambassador to China.

Budenz said the Communists 'relied upon" John Stewart Service and John Carter Vincent for aid within the department in their campaign .

Service and Vincent, both career officers, still are employed by the department. They were among the targets of Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) last year when the senator charged that Red sympathizers had infiltrated the state department. Since then, the department's loyalty and security board has made inquiries and cleared

Asks For Stronger Controls

Truman Message Sent Senate is Critical Over Present Law

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (AP)—President Truman asked Congress again today for stronger price controls, and denounced as "an economic boobytrap" one provision of the law passed by the legislators only three weeks ago.

This sharp phase was directed at the Capehart amendment, a provision which Senator Capehart (R-Ind.) got into the present law. It requires that price ceilings must take into account all increases in costs since the outbreak of the Korean war.

The President's message was read only in the Senate, the House having quit earlier in the day until September 12.

Besides elimination of the Capehart amendment, Mr. Truman also asked specifically for appeal of the Herlong and the Butler-Hope amendents.

The first, sponsored by Rep. Herlong (D-Fla.), requires that distributors be allowed pre-Korean markups on goods.

The second, by Senator Butler (R-Nebr.) and Rep. Hope (R.-Kan.), prohibits slaughter quotas.

By fixing quotas under the old law, the office of price stabilization could tell each slaughterer how many meat animals he could kill.

OPS contended this was necessary to assure proper distribution of meat and guard against black markets.

Urges Against Delay

If the three amendments stand, Mr. Truman said "they will do the greatest damage to our price controls and cerate the most hardship for our people."

"Action should be taken now to change the new law to prevent needless price increases. I urge the Congress not to wait until irreparable damage has been done to our economy. It should act promptly to take out of the act the new amendments that unnecessarily raise price ceilings."

The President said he had signed the new economics control bill July 31 because "the dangers in the international situation made it unsafe to permit any interruption in our mobilization program."

He noted Congress had passed the measure only the day before and had left him only one day in which to act.

If he had not signed it, he said, all production controls as well as price, wage, rent and credit controls would have expired.

And to have permitted that, the President said, would have been gambling with the nation's security.

"Saddles Consumers"

Lashing at the Capehart amendment, he asserted it "saddles the consumers of America with a promissory note of higher prices payable to business on demand" giving business the choice of its own time "to present this demand not to a helpless public."

Then, calling it "an economic boobytrap," the President went on:

"If it had simply and openly provided a straight across-the-board increase in ceiling prices, the damage to price control would have been clear and clean. But the delayed action fuses in this amendment make it all the more insidious and all the more dangerous because these fuses are set to explode at the very moment when they will do the most damage—when inflationary pressures become most acute."

As for the Herlong amendment, the President said that "under the guise of giving wholesalers and retailers their customary percentage mark-ups on the things they sell, this amendment invites America's 2,000,000 distributors to become commission salesmen for inflation."

"It offers them a percentage

Another Chance To be Given Iran

LONDON, Aug. 23—(AP)—A foreign office spokesman said today Britain has decided to give Iran another opportunity to reopen the critical discussions on the future of the billion dollar Anglo-Iranian Oil company.

The British made clear they will stay put for the time being in Abadan, center of the giant oil industry that produces around 500,000 barrels a day — a vital source of western Europe's defense needs.

The spokesman said the new bid to reopen the talks will be based on the previous recommendations drawn up by W. Averell Harriman the American trouble shooter in Iran. These formed the basis for the talks just concluded.

Harriman stayed on in Tehran after the talks came to a halt yesterday. He appeared more optimistic than other officials in Tehran, saying that the discussions were merely suspended and not broken off. Iranian premier Mohammed Mossadegh said, however, that "it is finished."

It is obvious that officials here are counting on Harriman to try once again to talk Iran into a more accommodating attitude toward the British.

About 400 See Disaster Film

Fewer Than 100 At Its Showing From Congress

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23—(AP)—A movie depicting mid-western flood damage has been added today to administration moves in support of President Truman's bid for $400,000,000 for relief and rehabilitation.

Fewer than 100 members of the Senate and House showed up last night for the showing of the army signal corps film, "mid-west flood disaster of 1951" in the interior department auditorium.

The President, who introduced the picture, had invited all members of Congress, through Vice President Barkley and Speaker Rayburn.

The audience of slightly under 400, including members of the cabinet, congressmen and their wives, interior department officials and newspapermen, saw a 40-minute newsreel showing the flood at its height and the devastation it caused in Kansas, Missouri and adjacent states.

Col. A. E. Howse, aide to defense mobilization director Wilson, described the flood as "the greatest single catastrophe in the history of this country."

Mr. Truman has asked for the $400,000,000 appropriation to establish a national system of flood disaster insurance and provide funds to pay flood victims for at least part of their losses, to make and guarantee loans of liberal terms for the building of homes and businesses to replace those destroyed, and to help farmers drain and rehabilitate their land.

In a brief introduction, the President told the audience "all you have to do is take a look at it to see what these people are up against."

Kiwanis Hears Talk on Ireland

Injustices to Ireland perpetrated by England, provided the theme for a talk by the Rev. J. T. Nolan, pastor of St. Patrick's Catholic church, before the Sedalia Kiwanis club at its meeting in Bothwell hotel Thursday noon. He was introduced by Program Chairman Henry Salveter.

The Rev. Fr. Nolan recently visited Ireland, the land of his birth. He reviewed the circumstances of partition under which Ireland has existed and compared it with that existing in Korea before hostilities began.

A short talk was made by Charles Holman, St. Louis, past Kiwanis International trustee, who is in Sedalia to attend the Fair. He was accompanied by his daughter, Martha, who was also a guest of the club.

Charles Van Dyne called attention of the members to the Business Men's farm tour which will be held Thursday, August 30, on the Tom Ream farm.

President T. H. Yount also reminded members of the join ladies night meeting with Rotary, scheduled for Monday evening, August 27. The speaker will be the Rev. Dr. George Percival, Chesterfield, England, minister of Saltergate Methodist church.

Club guests Thursday were: Jack Ham, Pensacola, Florida, with Dan Drew; Kiwanian Lane R. Van Orman, Pettersburg, Mich.; John Rodgers, Oklahoma City with Sylvan D. Woolery; and Charles Iuch, with T. H. Yount.

Halt May Be But Temporary After Accusation Made of Bombing

MUNSAN, Korea, Friday, Aug. 24—(AP)—The Communists abruptly broke of fthe Korean armistice talks Thursday, accusing the Allies of trying to "murder' 'the Red delegates, but intimated early today they expected the meetings to be resumed some time in the future.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgeway, supreme United Nations commander, rejected the Red charges as a frameup, planned in advance.

The Communist liaison officer told Allied liaison officers the cease-fire talks were off "from now on."

However, early today the Peiping radio broadcast the text of a message from the top Red commanders in Korea, saying, "It is our hope that the armistice negotiations will proceed smoothly, and that a just and reasonable agreement acceptable to both sides will be reached."

This broadcast, signed by Chinese Gen. Peng Teh-Huai and North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung, was nevertheless in violent language.

By Robert B. Tuckman

MUNSAN, Korea, Friday, Aug. 23—(AP)—The Communists called off the Korean armistice talks "from now on" Thursday on a bombing charge which the United Nations command said was a complete frame-up.

The Reds, in a dramatic night time maneuver, accused an allied plane of bombing Kaesong, site of the deadlocked negotiations.

An investigating American officer said the evidence he was shown in the early morning blackness was "ridiculous."

A Red liaison officer, pulling prepared notes from his pocket, promptly announced truce talks were "off from this time."

Confusion Evident

Despite the appearance of finality, high-ranking Allied officers Thursday night had expressed belief the breakdown was "by no means permanent."

Red broadcasts displayed some confusion in announcing the action.

Communist China's official Peiping radio said that only Thursday's sub-committee meeting was cancelled. Later it quoted a Kaesong dispatch saying "further meetings have been suspended."

This dispatche predicted "a further formal protest," presumably from a higher level, would be lodged with the UN command.

The Red Korean radio added further uncertainty by saying the Communists would consider the UN did not want to continue talks unless the Reds received a satisfactory answer to their long series of complaints.

All these complaints now have been answered. The UN command said all the alleged incidents either did not happen or were the Reds' own fault.

It was the fourth break in talks; the second by the Communists.

Reds broke off the talks shortly after midnight on the grounds a UN plane had bombed, fire-bombed and strafed Kaesong shortly before midnight.

Investigating American officers said "the evidence was ridiculous."

The complaining Red colonel said he didn't know how many bombs were dropped. Peiping radio said there were four.

The Red officer refused to continue the investigation into daylight. He also refused to leave the evidence — a few pieces of metal, a patch of scorched earth and a small depression — undisturbed for examination in day-

Message From Son Killed Is Delivered to Dying Father

INDEPENDENCE, Aug. 23—(AP)—A dying father smiled faintly today as a marine sergeant, here after a hurried trip halfway across the nation, told him his son was a "good buddy and a good marine."

The sergeant, Rosindo A. Teritilli, flew to Independence from Norfolk, Va., to fulfill the wish of Joseph J. Fain—for Teritilli to give him the details of his son's last days before he was killed on Corregidor.

Teritilli and Pfc. Truman Joseph Fain, 20, were Marine Corps buddies. They served together in the Pillippines in the early days before he was killed on Corregidor.

Teritilli arrived early today and was taken immediately to the Fain home.

Teritilli then described the scene on Corregidor in those dark days of the war. He said young Fain was killed by Japanese artillery fire. Teritilli escaped the artillery fire but was captured by the Flood Leaves Bitter Wake for 7,000 Families in Kansas City, Kas., Who 'Lost Everything'

KANSAS CITY Kas. — "We lost everything."

Over and over, that's the way more than 7,000 families of this city describe their plight after the nation's worst flood.

At first, those who made their homes in the flood-ravaged Armourdale and Argentine districts told of the high water damage almost matter-of-factly. Now they do so with intense feeling. The shock of the nightmarish experience is easing into bitter comprehension of their loss and need.

The realization becomes keener with each new look at sagging or splintered homes, encrusted with stinking, germ-ladan mud. For most, there is little to reclaim after a lifetime of work. The filthy debris of a home may render only a silt-covered washing machine with the paint peeling off. Or fragments of a keepsake.

"I am resigned to parting with the big things," one woman said, "but it's the little things which I wouldn't take a million for — like a lock of baby hair in an envelope — that are hardest to give up."

The flood victims are deeply grateful for emergency help given them. But they have bitter grievances, too.

"Why were we not warned earlier of the flood danger so we could get our belongings out?" they ask. "Why were flood control measures not taken to prevent the catastrophe?"

Faced with the problems of rehabilitation, many of the evacuees don't want to return to their home sites until assured positive steps will be taken to prevent another river disaster. They don't want their children or themselves, they say, ever again to experience the sickening sight of a home wrecked like match wood by a door-step river.

One man, bitter over constant rebuke by those who "couldn't understand why those in the flood areas didn't save their belongings," remarked that since going through Armourdale's last flood in 1903 he has trusted protective dikes and the judgment of river officials. Now he feels both let him down. That is the sentiment of others, too.

Armourdale and parts of Argentine, which were flooded, are located in the center of the city. Armourdale, which is flat, is surrounded on three sides by the Kaw river.

The first official evacuation warning for the two districts, sounded by whistles and sirens and radio pleas of "Get out now if you value your lives," came at 10:20 p. m., July 12. The second warning came seven hours later as water spilled over the dike in the west end of Armourdale.

Several hours before the first evacuation order came, the people read in the city's daily newspaper, the Kansas City Kansan: "City and county officials assured residents that there was no danger to Kansas City, Kas., and areas located within the dikes. The dikes, which have a height of 35 feet, were reported to be in good condition.

The Kaw river was expected to crest July 13 at Kansas City at 32 feet, another article in the same edition stated. It crested July 13 at a record-breaking 51 feet at one end of Armourdale.

Hundreds of families moved furnishings and valuables to second floors, thinking that level safe from flooding.

Some families who wanted to move belongings the day before the flood reported they could not pay the high "emergency" rates of as much as $100 per load to truckers to move possessions to another part of the city. Sightseers, too, hampered evacuees' movements.

Flood victims are desperately hoping for substantial financial aid to put them back on their feet again. They feel they shouldn't "take the rap" for a situation which should have been controlled.

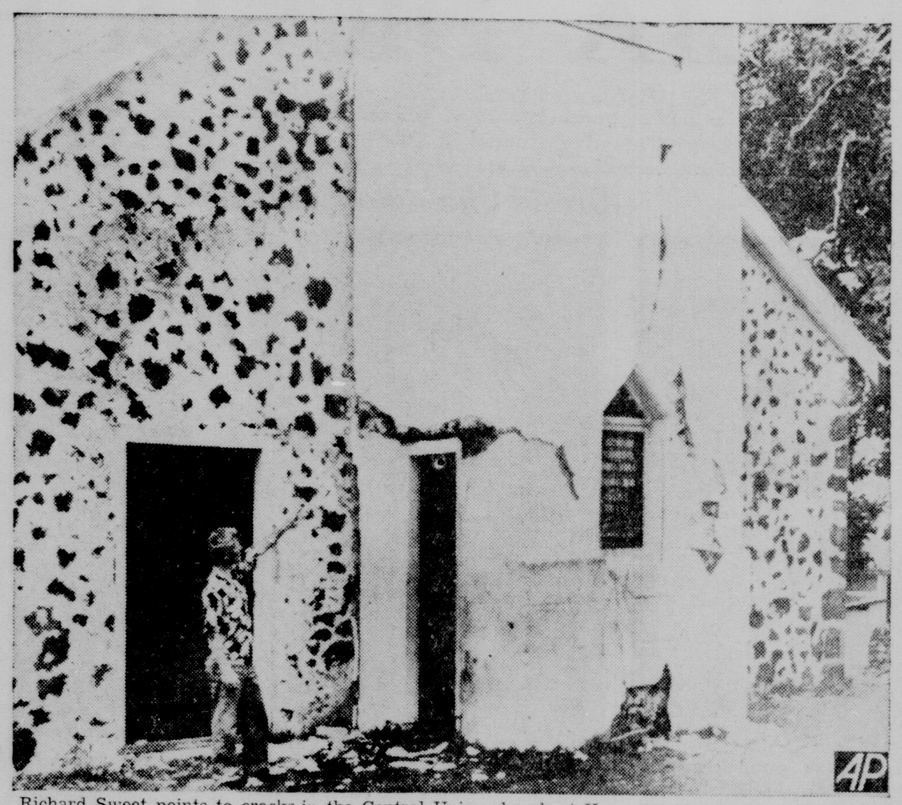

They seem to favor repairing, where possible, or rebuilding their homes with adequate financial assistance, rather than condemnation of their flood-damaged homes and building of apartments with minimum rents at about $45. The latter plan, they say, only would make the "poor poorer."

Future plans of the stricken families apparently depend on whether or not federal and other appropriations and plans for flood control are adequate, in addition to a permanent housing plan.

Financially, the flood avacuees of Kansas City, Kas., most of whom are in the low income brackets and small businessmen fear that in the end they might not be able to agree with the merchant who put out this sign in another part of the city after the flood:

"We were washed out but not washed up."

Memo to In-Laws: Husband Will Provide for His Bride

What can a young man do when his wife's parents, who have given her everything she wanted all her life, continue to anticipate her needs after she is married?

Writes a young husband: "My wife is an only child. Her parents are fine people and I am genuinely fond of them both. But they are doing something I think is very bad for my wife and for our marriage.

"Every time they come to see us they notice something we don't have that they think we ought to have, and promptly go home and send it to us.

"It may be anything from a fur coat for my wife to the money for the new chair we have as the next 'must' on our list of the things we are planning to add to our home.

"My salary isn't too big. But we can get by on it. I think the things we can't manage to get for ourselves, we ought to do without until we can afford them.

"Am I just being touchy or am I right in this attitude? If I am right, how do I go about straightening out the situation?"

No Hard Feeling Necessary

You are absolutely right. And you should be able to put your point across without any hard feelings. Either tell your wife's parents how you feel about their continually helping you out with gifts and money or ask your wife to tell them.

It it is done in a way to let them know you appreciate their generosity and know they have only the best intentions, their feelings shouldn't be hurt.

The fact that you like and respect them both will make the matter easier.

If you take a stand on this matter, you'll probably find that instead of its causing trouble it will prevent future difficulties. You should also find that your in-laws will respect you for wanting to take full financial responsibilty for their daughter.

Missouri Man Accused Of Brother's Murder

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Aug. 23—(AP)—A 21-year-old Missouri slaying has been revived when Sheriff T. M. Epperson said Louis Payne, 48, was charged with murder in the death of his [illegible].

Epperson, sheriff of McDonald county, Mo., took Payne into custody today. Attorneys advised Payne that extradition papers were not valid due to legal flaws. But the accused said he would "rather get back there and clear things up."

Benton Bass was deputy sheriff of the Missouri county when the death occurred. He told this story:

"It was Thanksgiving eve 1930, and the two brothers, along with two friends, had been drinking. They built a fire in the road at Bear Hollow, Mo. It is believed the two brothers got into a fight. Payne's brother burned to death in the fire."

William Stephens, attorney for Payne, said Payne told him he had been charged with murder in his brother's death shortly after it occurred, but the charge evidently had been dropped because "he never heard anymore about it."

Took Mental Exam After Patient Died

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Aug. 23—(AP)—County Judge James L. Powell has disclosed that Dr. Perry E. Hewitt, Jr., voluntarily submitted to a mental examination an hour after the death of a woman patient he had treated for a headache.

Hewitt, a brain specialist, is awaiting preliminary hearing Sept. 5 on a first degree manslaughter charge involving the death Aug. 9 of Mrs. Allene Shuler, 38, of Boger, Tex.

Judge Powell said the examination was not a matter of public record and that a decision by the two medical examiners is pending. All sanity cases in Muskogee county are reviewed by his court. the judge explained only that application for examination was not made by county attorney Ed Edmondson.

Edmondson accuses Hewitt of administering drugs while intoxicated to Mrs. Shuler. The specialist contends that the woman died of a stroke. He has suspended practice until outcome of the case.

Russia's Propaganda is Cleverly Planned

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

(Ed. Note — Drew Pearson, in Europe for the launching of Friendship balloons behind the Iron Curtain, has also picked up some important reactions regarding the vital problem of war and peace.)

EN ROUTE THROUGH EUROPE, August 23 — Europe today is a study in contrasts — contrasts between East and West, contrasts between this continent and the USA. Here are some scenes which, though I have left them, remain vividly etched on my mind.

Scene 1 — East Berlin: As you walk behind the Iron Curtain through the bomb-riddled city of East Berlin you are struck with the way Moscow has played up the thing that appeals most to men's hearts.

Flags are everywhere. And between every German, Chinese, Czech, Korean, Hungarian flag is the blue and white flag of peace. Atop every pillar also squats the dove of peace — a plump, dumpy dove, a little too smug and self-satisfied to sit surveying the stark remnants of what was once Berlin — but nevertheless a constant reminder that the Soviet Union suposedly craves peace.

And at the base of every pillar are featured the international words for peace — "Paz—Mir—Paix—Beke—Peace." Over and over again are repeated these words, the words every soldier loves, the words every nationality can read and understand — peace.

In telling contrast are featured the words of President Truman, Secretary Marshall, Dean Acheson, warning of the danger of war, warning that we must prepare for war.

It was international propaganda at its most effective, most deceptive best. And despite the state department's valiant though limited counter propaganda, hundreds of thousands of the 2,000,000 youngsters who attended the Berlin youth rally must have gone home with the impression that the USA was the big bad ogre of the world today, with the USSR their only hope for peace.

Scene II — The U. S. Senate, Washington, D. C.: Senator McKellar of Tennessee, aged 88, the chairman of the Senate appropriations committee, is listening sleepily to state department testimony regarding its budget. George Perkins, aged 56, son of a J. P. Morgan partner, chief of European affairs, and not exactly the Communist-type McCarthy claims runs the state department, is testifying regarding the need for more funds to run the U. S. embassy in Communist Poland.

The senators want to know why it will cost more next year than last. Perkins explains that the battle against Communism has become more intense, also that the embassy lost money last year through the depreciation of the Polish zloty.

"Young man," glowered Senator McKellar of Tennessee, "will you tell me under what article of the U. S. constitution or by what law of Congress you have the right to go out and tamper with another nation's currency?"

It is this same Senator McKellar, using his deep insight into international affairs, who influences how much money the state department can have to combat Communism.

Scene III — Also the U. S. Senate: Senator McCarran of Nevada, aged 75, is listening to assistant Secretary of State Barrett testify regarding the Voice of America and the importance of selling the United States to the rest of the world. McCarran keeps wider awake than his colleague from Tennessee. He even admits that Barrett puts up a plausible argument. Finally, however, he concludes:

"I would hate to answer for the spending of all this money to prevent war, when I feel sure war is inevitable."

Scene IV — Back in Berlin: The studio of radio station RIAS operated by the state department in the western sector:

A group of East German youngsters have crowded into the RIAS studio. Supposedly Communists, and attending the Communist youth rally, they want to see the radio station they have been listening to across the Iron Curtain in East Germany.

Before the microphone come various RIAS radio performers—first a singer. She gets a terrific sound of applause. Then comes a political commentator who every night takes gibes at Soviet operations in East Germany. He, too, is gleefully recognized by the youthful audience.

They know their RIAS radio performers as an American audience knows its Jack Benny or Milton Berle. It's a recognition that can come only from listening.

These youngsters are the future generation of Germany — the kids who will really decide whether Communism stays or goes; who will fight or fraternize with American boys in the war that Senator McCarran says is inevitable.

Yet Senator McCarran, an old man of 75, who won't have to fight; and Senator McKellar, now 88, say the state department's radio program is wasted money, poured out on empty ether.

Soviet Russia today spends $2,000,000,000 a year on propaganda. It even has 1,200 jamming stations to drown out the Voice of America—The Voice which the old men of the Senate say is waste of money. It appears so important to the Kremlin, however, that the Kremlin spends more than the cost of the Voice in order to drown it out.

This year the state department asked for a little more money to carry on the war of ideas, but the old men of the Senate appropriations committee voted a cut. Here is their secret vote to hamstring their country in the battle of ideas: McCarran, McKellar, McClellan of Arkansas, Bridges of New Hampshire, Ferguson of Michigan, Wherry of Nebraska and Hickenlooper of Iowa.

Scene V—A West German youth center in West Berlin: Inside is a line of East German youngsters waiting for soup and noodles. The Communist food system has broken down in the east zone and they have come over to West Berlin. They know where to come because the state department published a pocket-size guidebook in advance telling the Communist kids where to find the West Berlin youth centers.

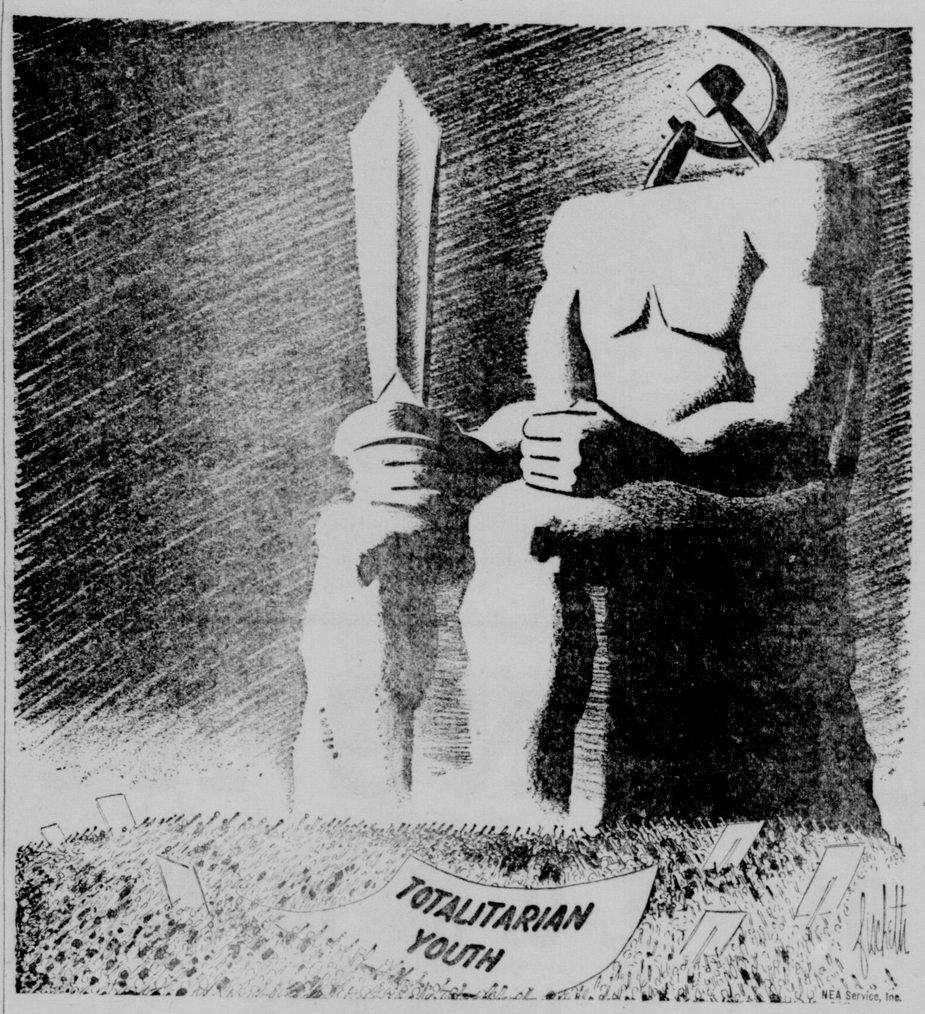

Around the walls of the youth center sit another group of East German youngsters, bent over, their noses buried in magazines and pamphlets. As our party came in they did not look up. Dressed as westerners, we usually attracted attention. But they did not look up.

They were reading, believe it or not, anti-Communist literature—cartoons depicting Stalin for what he really is, a warmonger; an illustrated story of Korea; pamphlets telling the genuine peace aims of the United States.

It was state department literature, carefully printed in German, illustrated by German cartoonists, telling the true facts about the United States. Obviously it was a story which these East German youngsters had never heard before, and it must have been a fascinating story, for they drank it in like a dime novel.

I visited half a dozen youth centers in West Berlin. In each it was the same way — Communist kids pouring over our literature, hungry to know the truth, stuffing the booklets into their blouses when they left, many of them tearing the covers off so their Communist bosses would not find and penalize them for having this literature — the same literature which Senators McKellar, McCarran, Ferguson, et al, now say we should curtail.

Early Operation Aids Hairlip Children Reduce Handicap

There are people prominent in almost all walks of life who were born with a split upper lip or a gap in the structures at the roof of the mouth. The former condition is called harelip and the latter, cleft palate. The two occur together quite often. The fact that so many have achieved success in life in spite of one or both of these defects proves, however, that the handicap need not stand in the way of a full and satisfactory life.

These conditions fall in the group of what are called congenital defects. A person is born with them and the cause has therefore been operating before birth. It seems likely that they are the result of some injury before birth rather than being truly hereditary. The studies which show that German measles in the mother during the first three months of pregnancy predisposes to congenital defects already throw some light on how this kind of thing could work.

It is naturally a shock to the parents to have a child born with a harelip or cleft palate. But parents should not be discouraged. Surgery can help enormously, not only in appearance, but also in forestalling the speech difficulties which are such a serious part of the condition. The nature of the operation needed should be planned early, and the age at which it should be done.

Usually it is best to operate while the child is quite young as this may avoid some of the speech and other difficulties which would be encountered by postponing treatment. Also, there are questions of post - operative care, speech training and dental adjustments, to mention the two which are probably most important.

More Sensitive

From the standpoint of appearance as well as that of speech the best possible correction of harelip or cleft palate is important. Children are even more sensitive about how they look than grownups, and a sensitive child with a "different" looking face can develop all sorts of complexes, especially excessive shyness.

It is wise therefore to make the lip look as normal as possible early in life; also the parents should be aware of the psychological difficulties faced by the child. The youngster should be helped to meet any thoughtless or cruel remarks of playfellows by not taking them too seriously and fighting any tendency to become too indrawn on the one hand or too aggressive on the other.

Overprotection—spoiling—on the part of the parents could well be as harmful as complete neglect.

With modern surgery and intelligent understanding, the youngster with a birth defect of this sort can readily surmount the obstacles he or she faces and need not fear a life which will be "different" from that of others.

Year-old twins Susan (foreground) and her brother Walter Gildea, Jr., have been cutting teeth for the past week. And every night Papa and Mama Gildea have been shouldering the twins and walking the floor for hours. The night of Aug. 21, they decided they would spoil the Philadelphia twins no longer —besides they were exhausted and needed sleep. So — the twins started crying at 11 p. m. At 2 a. m. Aug. 22 they were still going strong. Papa and Mama slept but the neighbors did not. They called the cops. Thhe cops called on the Gildeas. Red Cross Nearer Its Relief Goal

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23—(AP)—The Red Cross drive to raise $5,000,000 for flood relief work in the midwest is approaching the three-quarters mark.

The organization reported today that $3,367,000 had been raised as of Tuesday, with 693 of 3,700 Red Cross chapters exceeding their quotas.

"As long as the present momentum is maintained, we're optimistic about the outcome," Robert Shea, national director of fund raising told a reporter.

The Red Cross launched the campaign July 24, at the request of President Truman, after devastating floods hit Kansas, Missouri and other areas of the midwest.

No deadline has been set for ending the drive. Shea said local chapters have been urged to try to double their quotas because recent surveys show relief needs are greater than iriginally anticipated.

F.F.A. Honors

Aurora high school's Future Farmers of America chapter stepped in today to share with Norborne high the top honors in the FFA division of the Missouri State Fair.

For several years Norborne has been winning both the Governor's plaque and the Jim Kem livestock trophy for the blue ribbon showing of livestock. This year Aurora took the Jim Kem trophy while Norborne kept the Governor's plaque for the 10th time in 13 years.

It was the first time since the Kem trophy was first offered that any chapter except Norborn ehad taken over possession of the large cup. 'Commies' Are Accused of 'Masquerade'

Denies Bombing By UN Plane as Reds Charged

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23—(AP)—President Truman today accused the Communists of conducting a "masquerade" by their claim a U. N. plane bombed Kaesong. He said this government does not know the purpose or whether it means the end of Korean armistice negotiations.

In a statement read to his news conference, the President declared:

"Until this is clarified, we cannot appraise the events of last night—except that they obviously were not calculated to move the negotiations toward an armistice."

He said of course there is "no truth" in the claim that a U. N. plane bombed the meeting area.

At his meeting with reporters, the president also:

1. Declared he is "confident that an arrangement can ultimately be worked out" for the settlement of the British-Iranian oil crisis.

2. Urged in a third statement that every member of Congress, every industrialist and every labor representative read his industry dispersal program which he said is "economically sound and adaptable to any state or industrial area."

Some Congress members from heavily-populated areas have been apprehensive that the dispersal plan might take industries away from their districts. Mr. Truman said critics were wrong in saying it involved government efforts "to move industry and labor from one part of the country to the other."

Report From Ridgeway

The president, anticipating reporters' questions about the Kaesong incident, opened his conference by telling them he has had a report from General Ridgeway on the episode.

He read then the following statement:

"General Ridgeway has reported to me, and has made public, the story of last night's episode in Kaesong. There is, of course, no truth in the Communist claim that a United Nations plane had bombed the Kaesong area. No United Nations aircraft were even in the vicinity at the time the alleged bombing took place. Whether any enemy aircraft were present is not clear, but the flimsy nature of the so-called 'evidence' show to the United Nations laision officers makes it extremely doubtful that any bombing took place at all.

"We do not know the purpose of this new Communist masquerade in Kaesong. The Communist liasion officer last night made certain statements about calling off further meetings in the armistice negotiations. But it is not clear whether he was referring to the meetings planned for today, to meetings for the next several days—or whether it is the Communist intention to back out of the armistice negotiation altogether.

"Until this is clarified, we cannot appraise the events of last night—except that they obviously were not calculated to move the negotiations forward toward an armistice."

Cab Driver Is Found Slain

CARUTHERSVILLE, Mo., Aug. 23—(AP)—The trussed and battered body of Thomas B. "Sport" Lipscomb, 60, Steele, Mo., cab driver missing since Monday night, was found near a drainage canal a short distance from Deering, Mo., late yesterday.

Two children, members of a searching party which had been scouring the area since the man's disappearance, found the body.

Sheriff Jake Claxton said the cab driver, well known and highly respected at Steele, was known to have picked up two passengers shortly before midnight. One of the passengers had been identified as an ex-convict of "bad" reputation, the sheriff said.

Claxton said the man had been beaten over the head, bound and gagged. Indications were he was killed in his cab and then tossed out of the car into a clump of weeds. His cab was found abandoned near Bardwell, Ky.

May Take Leap Over Falls Saturday

NEW YORK, Aug. 23—(AP)—Bernarr MacFadden's plan to parachute over Niagara Falls is "definite," an aid of the 83-year-old physical culturist said yesterday.

He may take the leap Saturday, said Edward Bodin.

MacFadden picked out the spot for the jump last Sunday while on an airplane flight over the Niagara gorge just below the falls, Bodin added.

MacFadden has been conferring with A. P. Newcomb, Detroit tool maker and parachute expert, and Newcomb will determine when conditions are best for the jump, Bodin said.

The physical culturist and publisher made his first parachute jump on his 81st birthday. He planned another leap, over the falls, on his 83rd birthday last week. But he postponed the feat to await the right kind of weather, Bodin said.

Increase in Polio In The Past Week

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23—(AP)—The public health service reported today there were 1,765 new cases of polio last week, 16 per cent more than in the previous week.

In the corresponding week a year ago there were 1,488 new cases.

A substantial incerase was reported in the west north central states—242 new cases, compared with 138 the previous week.

In this group, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri and Arkansas accounted for most of the rise.

Looking on is Mrs. Lloyd Tising, mother of Carl, also of High Point and Secretary of the United States Treasury, John W. Snyder, St. Louis and Washington, D. C. Four Swift Pacers Entered In Mid America Pace Friday

Four of the fastest pacers in the world will go to the post in the $10,000 Mid America Pace at the Missouri State Fair tomorrow as harness racing's Grand Circuit winds up its annual five-day stand.

Headed by the speedy Scottish Pence, the ultra-select field also includes the fast class pacing stars Prince Jay, Dudley Hanover and Favonian Chief.

Scottish Pence, owned by the Castelton Farm of Lexington, Ky., is fresh from a victory scored last week in the $25,000 Yonkers Pacing Derby at Yonker's, N. Y. The six-year-old stallion, who will be driven by Wayne (Curley) Smart, also has won the $50,000 Nassau Two Mile Pace and the $25,00 Invitational Pace to date this season. In each of the latter races he posted world's records for the mile and a half and two mile distances.

Prince Jay, who has beaten Scottish Pence three time this season, won last week's Mid America Pact at the Illinois State Fair. After dropping the first heat which went in 1.58 3/5, Prince Jay cam eback to win the second dash in 2.00 and then the third and deciding heat.

Dudley Hanover, although beaten by Prince Jay last Friday, had already posted a pair of two minute miles over the Illinois oval that week.

The Hayes Fair Acre Stable star was clocked in 1.59 4/5 and back in two minutes as he won an aged pace on Monday of that week.

Favonian Chief, who rounds out the field, is owned by E. C. Moriarty of Wichita, Kas., and rated almost on a par with the others.

Three other events round out the getaway card. Four horses are entered in the $2,500 overnight trot, Thunderation, Amscot, Delhi Lady and Levi Hanover. A $1,000 overnight pace has drawn Our Time, full sister to Good Time, Dazzleway, Poplar Tom and True Spencer. Six will go to the post in a 21 class pace.

World's Longest Relay System

The longest radio relay system in the world, the Bell System's coast-to-coast microwave relay network, began carrying telephone calls on Friday, August 17, according to Z. L. Brown, District manager for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

At the same time Brown reports that work on the installation and testing of additional special equipment needed to adapt the facilities to carry television over the route has advanced to the point where it is now expected the transcontinental television service can be inaugurated September 30.

'The completed project, representing an investment of $40 million, is an important addition to the Bell System's facilities serving the nation's civilian and defense needs; over the new communications skyway, words and pictures will be relayed between 107 towers stretching from New York through Chicago, Omaha, and Denver, to San Francisco," the District Manager stated.

A model of one line in this microwave system is on display and is being demonstrated this week at the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's Exhibit at the Missouri State Fair by telephone personnel.

Again Asks Stronger Controls

stake in every price increase."

Turning then to the ban on slaughter quotas, Mr. Truman said:

"Regardless of the reasons which prompted its enactment, this amendment does what Congress certainly had no intention of doing—it puts the black marketeer back in the meat business. And it makes him harder to catch.

"Without quotas" the scramble for scarce supplies increases the pressures to violate ceiling prices. The black marketeer, who cares nothing about ceiling prices, finds it much easier to muscle in on the business of his legitimate competitor. This unrestricted competition for limited supplies inevitably boosts prices. And is likely to make it impossible to have any successful control of meat prices for consumers."

As to what the administration will do pending action by Congress, Mr. Truman had this to say:

'Pending corrective action by the Congress the stabilization agencies will, of course, administer the law as fairly and effectively as possible, despite the difficulties created by these admendments.

"I have instructed the agencies to do the best they can to minimize the many operating problems these amendments create, and to preserve the structure of price control from administrative collapse."

Abrupt Break In Truce Talks By the Reds

light.

He had summoned the American investigators at midnight for an immediate investigation. And he once pursued them a quarter of the way to Munsan to take them back to Kaesong to see more evidence in the blacked out town.

Reaction Varied

The Americans saw the "evidence" only in the darkness and rain. Communist newsmen were already on hand when they arrived.

The abrupt announcement that talks were off brought varied reaction.

New York dispatches reported United Nations officials were depressed, but hopeful the talks would be resumed. Secretary General Trygve Lie was pictured as viewing the breakdown with "gravest concern."

Washington reported the feeling there was that the action was possibly dictated from Moscow.

Hong Kong dispatches commented a resumption of fighting in Korea would relieve Red Chinese pressure on Southeast Asia.

If full war is resumed, UN commanders have expressed confidence their forces can meet any Red onslaught. "We'll slaughter them," field officers said.

Allied troops are dug in on the best positions they have ever held in Korea.

They are in positions where the UN command wanted them to remain during a truce. The Reds wanted them to retreat to below the 38th parallel. Armistice negotiations had been snagged on this point for a month. A subcommittee was trying to solve it.

First intimation of the new incident came in an urgent midnight telephone call from the Reds at Kaesong to the UN truce camp at Munsan.

Message From Son Killed is Delivered To Dying Father

Japanese and spent nearly four years in prison camps.

The sergeant told Fain that after the battle was over the Japanese allowed their prisoners to return to the scene and bury the American dead. He related how helped bury Truman Fain in "a small cemetery on Corregidor."

The family said Fain "seemed satisfied."

Teritilli plans to stay at the Fain residence several days.

The marine came here in response to a message from Independence saying the older Fain was dying of cancer and cherished the wish that he could be told about his son.

The fleet marine headquarters at Norfolk granted him special leave to make the journey.

Teritilli was captured on Corregidor and spent nearly four years in Japanese prison camps. After his release he signed up for another hitch in the marines and was unable to get to Independence to visit the Fains.

He then served in the Mediterranean. He went to Korea when the war broke out there and finally was transferred to Norfolk in April.

Speedway Star Thinks His Car Can Beat Luptow

Bill Holland, the Indianapolis speedway auto racing star, thinks his Blue Crown Offenhauser will finish better than fifth, and may even deliver a surprise win over Frankie Luptow's Black Panther in the final State Fair big car auto races Saturday afternoon.

Holland, first Indianapolis 500-mile race winner ever to race at Sedalia, admitted he was disappointed in his first day showing before Sunday's great turnout of fans.

He blamed the heavy track conditions for his failure to finish better than fifth in the main sweepstakes event won by Luptow.

"My engine, a 220-cubic inch outfit, doesn't have the horsepower of the big 270-cubic inch jobs, and we look bad on muddy tracks," Holland pointed out. "But give us a hard, smooth track and we've got lots of sting," he said.

Holland, who hails from Reading, Pa., explained that his Blue Crown Offy is now leading on points for the 1951 Eastern AAA dirt track title, and has won from such AAA starts at Troy Ruttman, Johnny Parsons, Duane Carter and others in the East.

"It takes a few laps to find the way they run out in this country," Holland continued. "I never did get going in the first heat race Sunday. It was easier the next time out, and we won that race. But in the feature I just lacked the horsepower to get around the fellows ahead of me."

Five Dismissed To Take Offer

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Aug. 23.—(AP)—Five dismissed West Point cadets have applied for admission to the University of Notre Dame under terms offered by an anonymous benefactor.

The university withheld the names of the five, who will be screened to determine whether they meet requirements of the school and donor.

A "very wealthy" man recently offered to pay the expenses of any or all of the 90 cadets who were dismissed from the military academy for exchanging examination information.

He stipulated that those who accepted the offer must meet Notre Dame's standards and academic requirements, that they need the help and that they not participate in intercollegiate sports.

Parke Carroll to Represent Hubbell

Carl Hubbell, the first native born Missourian to be honored in the Missouri Sports Hall of Fame at the Missouri State Fair, is to be represented at presentation ceremonies, Friday afternoon by Parke Carroll, general manager of the Kansas City Blues baseball club.

Mr. Carroll is to receive a plaque from the State of Missouri, the presentation to be made by Ernie Mehl, Kansas City Star sports editor. Mr. Mehl will act as master-of-ceremonies of the program to be held in front of the grandstand preceeding the Grand Circuit racing program.

Mr. Carroll is a well known former sports editor-writer. For many years he was a sports writer on the Kansas City Journal-Post, and succeeded Ed Cochran as sports editor when the latter went to Chicago. He also served as President of the American Association, and has been a figure in the sports world as a writer.

In the days of the Journal-Post Mr. Carroll and Mr. Mehl sat at the working press table at sports events as rival sports writers.

Hope To Heal Breach on Roads

JEFFERON CITY, Aug. 23—(AP)—"I think we have a good chance to heal the breach that has existed between the city and the county."

That's Rep. Milton F. Duvall (D) of Pike county talking. He is House Highways chairman and a member of a special commission which finished hearings yesterday on road needs.

Both Duvall and Sen. Michael Kinney (D) of St. Louis, chairman of the special study group, were optimistic about chances to draft legislation that might solve Missouri's long, bitter road fight.

Most of the 75 witnesses who testified agreed there is a highway problem. But they differed sharply on how much construction is needed and how to finance the work.

Pending in the Senate are two bills already passed by the House—one to increase the two-cent gas tax to three cents and another to boost truck fees slightly.

Kinney said the commission will meet again next Thursday to start writing its report, including specific recommendations on what kind of legislation should be passed at the fal session of the assembly.

Is Found Shot In Hotel Room

WAYNESVILLE, Mo., Aug. 23—(AP)—Jackson Ross Hopper, 27, East St. Louis, Ill., was found shot to death in a hotel room here yesterday, shortly after his small son and a friend left the room to get breakfast.

The highway patrol said Hopper apparently died of a shotgun blast in the chest, and that a 12-gauge shotgun was found beside the body.

Thomas Dixon said Hopper had asked him to take Hopper's four-year-old son, Jack, out to breakfast. A short time later the body was found.

Dixon told authorities Hopper and the son arrived here Tuesday to arrange a meeting with Hopper's estranged wife employed at nearby Ft. Leonard Wood.

Indians Clash Now With The N. Y. Yankees

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland's electrifying stretch drive for the American League pennant enters another critical stage today as the Indians clash head on with the runner-up New York Yankees.

The Indians, out in front by two games, have three of their aces ready for the invading Yankees, who limped in from Detroit.

Manager Al Lopez will shoot Bob Lemon (14-9), Early Wynn (14-11) and Mike Garcia (17-8) against the defending champions. Bob Feller (20-5), of course, is in reserve.

The Yankees pitching plans are not as formidable. Vic Raschi (17-7) will face lemon today. Jack Kramer (1-3) is scheduled for Friday night's game and Ed Lopat (15-7) is slated to work in the series final Saturday.

Allie Reynolds (12-7) originally was scheduled to go Friday night, but the fast-balling righthander worked four inning yesterday as the Yanks dropped a 7-6 12-inning decision to the Tigers.

Yesterday the Indians pulled out a 6-5 14-inning victory over Washington increase their lead to two games.

New York enjoys a 11-6 edge over the Indians in the season's series. However, the Yanks have won only three out of eight in Cleveland.

In other American League games the Philadelphia Athletes swept a twi-night doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox, 5-2 and 8-1, and the Boston Red Sox beat the St. Louis Browns, 3-1, in 13 innings.

Bob Hooper stopped the White Sox on eight hits in the opener and Sam Zoldak limited Chicago to six hits in the second game. Gus Zernial homered in each game for the A's to boost his output to 27, tops in the American League.

In the National League, the Brooklyn Dodgers captured a day-night doubleheader from the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-3 and 8-7. The runnerup New York Giants ran their winning streak to 11 games by defeating the Cincinnati Reds, 4-3. The Philadelphia Phils downed the Cchcago Cubs, 4-0, and the Boston Braves edged the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-3 in ten innings.

Champions in Start Tonight

WICHITA, Kas., Aug. 23—(AP)—The Fort Wayne, Ind., Capeharts, defending champions, make their first start tonight in this year's National Semi-Pro Baseball Tournament.

Two of the double-elimination tournament's top teams battled through a wild game last night with the Sinton, Tex., Oilers finally edging Lafayette, Ind., Red Sox 9-8. The victory advanced Sinton into the third round undefeated. It was Lafayette's first loss.

In first round games the Casa Grange, Ariz., Kings walloped Lewiston, Idaho, 9-0, and the Bellinhgam, Wash., Belles beat the Albuqperque, N. M., Simons 4-3 Albuquerque pushed across two runs in the ninth but Bellingham cut off the rally to win.

Duke Of Lullwater Captures Feature Grand Circuit Race

Worthy Spud, by Spud Hanover, and owned by W. E. Trapp, Lincoln, Ill., was the winner of the 20-class Trot (Greater Kansas City Trophy) purse of $2,500.00. A trophy was presented to the victorious owner by James Flinn, Commerce Trust Co., Kansas City, representing Mayor James Kemp of Kansas City, who was unable to remain for the third heat of the race.

Duke of Lullwater, brown colt owned by Walter T. Candler, Decater, Ga., copped the $16,343 American National Stake for two-year-old trotters in straight heats on the Grand Circuit.

Duke Used To Winning

Driven by Johnny Simpson, the Duke captured one of the two elimination heats in 2:06 and then whipped nine other juveniles in the finale, also in 2:06. Hit Song, driven by Harry Pownall, won the other elimination and finished second to Duke of Lullwater in the final dash. It was the second straight major Grand Circuit win for the Georgia colt, who knocked-off the $21,000 Greyhound Stake last week.

Leo C. McNamara presented the trophy to Mr. Candler after Duke Lullwater's victory. State Treasurer M. E. Morris, presented a silver trophy to W. Smart, driver of Rush Hour, for winning the 14 class pace, (Governor Forrest Smith trophy) $5,000 purse. The Governor was visiting exhibits when the race ended and was unable to get to the track in time for the presentation.

Teen Age Blues Defeat Boonville

The Teen-age Blues won over the Boonville Legion Tuesday night at Boonville by a score of 3-1 coming from behind to score all four runs in the ninth inning.

Boonville scored their lone run in the fourth and led 1-0 all the remainder of the game until the ninth inning.

The Blues best chance was in the first inning when Fischer walked and Watson and Lees singled to fill the bases, but were unable to score. Coffman of Boonville held the Blues to one hit after that until they unleased a scoring barrage in the ninth.

Bill Watson started the big scoring frame by singling and stealing second. Wall got to first on a fielder's choice and Watson scored as Jack Barnes singled. Joe Walter singled scoring Wall and Barnes. After loading the bases Joe Fischer was hit by the ball forcing in the last run for the Blues.

C. A. Smith of the Blues allowed four hits, two being triples and had fourteen strikeouts.

Coffman and Hirlinger allowed five hits to the Blues.

Bill Watson and Jack Barnes each got two hits to account for four of the five hits of the Blues.

"Murder" in Quotes

by Julius Long

COPR. 1951 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: My name is James (Jimmer) Malloy and I've been acquitted of the murder of Charlie Berman, who practically stole an amusement park from me. Charlie's brother Earnie has threatened me, but my lawyer, Gene Sawyer thinks he knows how to get my property back, because it is on land leased from the state. Charlie got my lease through bribery, which can't be proved, but an old law places the land out of jurisdiction of the corrupt officials who therefore had no right to refuse to renew my lease.

IV

I was so stunned that I couldn't even nod my head. I avidly read the case marked in the book. Though I was not a lawyer, the language was so clear that I could grasp the basic ideas Under the law, I still had a right to my resort lands at Queen Lake!

"Now the thing to do," said Gene Sawyer, "is to file a suit to quiet title right here in this county. Also a suit for ejectment. Berman took possession of your property; his brother Earnie's been running it ever since his murder. You can get it back—maybe not before this season ends, but you can collect an awful lot of damages for Berman's unlawful use. I've already drawn a petition. Sign it; I'll file it yet today."

From a drawer, he produced a stapled document. I hastily read it, then affixed my signature. Gene smiled with satisfaction, added carelessly:

"You can fire your lawyers at the state capital. Tell them that I've been very unethical, but that I'll get your land back and won't charge you a cent of fees until I do. As for my fee for defending you for Charlie Berman's murder, I'll wait for that, too. You can keep your convertible."

I shook my head. "You overwhelm me. I don't know what to say."

Gene shrugged. "In the meanwhile, if you feel grateful, you can do one thing for me. Don't let the public get you down, You know why you were freed today. The jury thought you were guilty. But the jurors knew that Charlie Berman had stolen the property your father had spent a lifetime building up for you, and they didn't blame you for killing him."

"But they still think I killed him. Everybody thinks that—even you."

Gene shrugged again. "What difference does it make what I think—or what anybody thinks. Unless you let it get you ."

"What do you mean, let it get me?"

"I'm thinking of something Andre Maurois wrote. 'By a queer mimicry,' wrote Maurois, 'we become what people think of us.'"

I thought it over. I had been through too much that day to be able to think clearly about a philosophical quip.

"Just what are you driving at, Gene? Are you saying that I may become a murderer simply because everybody thinks I am?"

"Take it easy for what it's worth," said Gene. "I've seen Maurois's theory proven time and again. If a man has a criminal face he may become a criminal because people think him one. If he has a stocky physique, a broad, tough face like Earnie Berman, he may become a tough guy. If he looks like a scholar he is apt to become one. People spend their lives trying to live up to the roles other people have assigned to them."

"And they have assigned to me the role of a murderer."

Gene looked at me and said nothing.

Nothing had ever seemed more wonderful than the clean fresh air that bathed my face as I let my convertible out on the highway to Queen Lake. The car had been stored for five weeks, ever since that day in June when I had been arrested.

I had known it was going to happen, but not so quickly as it did. A trip to Queen City to buy a couple of shirts had been my last ride before going to jail.

A siren that seemed almost in my ear brought me out of my revery. A highway patrol car had pulled up along-side mine I glanced at my speedometer. I was doing 85.

I slowed and stopped on the berm. The patrol car stopped behind me.

A six-foot patrolman got out of the car and came up to mine. "What do you think this is, Daytona Beach?"

"Skip the lecture and write a ticket."

The patrolman gave me a double-take.

"You're Malloy, aren't you?"

"That's right. And you can give me a ticket for not having a driver's license, too. It's in my wallet back at the jail. I didn't feel like going back there."

"That's all right, fellow. Glad you got a break with that jury. Just take it a little easy from here on in."

I couldn't believe it. The patrolman walked on back to his car. I drove on, holding the convertible to a sedate 50. In my time I had collected enough speeding citations to paper a wall. I was allergic to highway cops. They all knew it. But now one of them had given me a break out of sympathy. And he had said that a jury had given me a break. He knew that I was guilty of speeding, but he had let me go. And a jury knew that I was guilty of murder, and it had let me go.

I recalled Gene Sawyer's quote of Maurois. Maybe a guy could have his life molded to a certain extent by public opinion, but not to the point of becoming a murderer. Not even if everybody, including your own lawyer, thought you were one.

Shows Adulteration Of Hamburger Color

HANNIBAL, Mo., Aug. 23—(AP)—Dr. E. M. Lucke, head of the Hannibal-Marion county health department has said a check of meat markets here and elsewhere in Missouri indicates considerable adulteration of hamburger.

He said a three-month survey has been conducted in the state by the Missouri division of health and the federal bureau of food and drugs.

Dr. Lucke reported that hamburger is being adulterated through addition of an agent which gives the meat a redder color. He explained that the agent is harmless, but that its use is deceptive and in violation of state and federal laws.

He expressed belief the agent is added at retail levels. Warnings were served to merchants in the Hannibal area. They were told that stronger measures would be taken if the alleged practice persists.

Long Underwear Saves A Man's Life Savings

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 23—(AP)—John Stover, 79, "socked away" his money in such a safe place he thought it was stolen.

Stover told police recently he dropped his wallet, containing his life's savings of $720. He said two boys picked up the billfold from the sidewalk and ran.

Later, red faced Stover reported he had found the billfold.

It had slipped down inside his long underwear and lodged where the legs were tucked into his socks.

Glen Kirkman GOES "ALL OUT" for His COMMUNITY

Shake hands with Glen P. Kirkman, District Auditor, Missouri Power & Light Company at Moberly. He's Secretary of the Moberly Chapter of the S. P. E. B. S. Q. S. A. . . . general chairman of the Parade of Quartets' committee. Also, he finds time to "harmonize" at home with his wife and two children, besides singing in the church choir.

Good citizen, good American . . . all in all, Glen Kirkman is quite a guy . . . the kind of man you'd like to have in your community, typical of the more than 30,000 business-managed electric, gas and water company folk that serve you throughout Missouri.

Missouri's investor-owned water, gas and electric utilities are proud of the part they and their employees are playing in the progress of our state and our nation. The nearly 30,000 of us salute the good citizens of our many communities and are glad to be working with them in good citizenship, along with our job of supplying the services of electricity, gas and water to your community. RAIN, RAIN, STAY AWAY—A number of commuters on the Chicago and North Western Railway are in for an unscheduled bath if they don't claim their umbrellas from the railway's lost and found department before the next rain-fall. Custodian W. G. Schoenberger displays some of the unclaimed umbrellas left on trains by absent-minded commuters during this year's rainy season.

The centigrade thermometer was invented by Anders Celsius, a Swede, in 1742.

Sauerkraut Summer Salad

TANGY KRAUT, drained and chilled, mixed with green peppers, radishes, on tomato wedges, makes a wonderful new salad.

By Gaynor Maddox
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Crisp chilled sauerkraut does wonders with the summer appetite. Tuck it into sandwiches in place of the usual relishes, serve it instead of cole slaw with broiled or baked fish, carry it to picnics in an unopened container for a relish or salad.

Sauerkraut Summer Salad
(Makes 6 servings)

One No. 2 can sauerkraut, 4 radishes, 1 medium green pepper, 1 teaspoon grated onion, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, 2 tablespoons sour cream, 4 tomatoes.

Place can of sauerkraut in refrigerator and chill over night or several hours. Open can of sauerkraut and drain off juice. Cut radishes into thin slices and the green pepper into thin strips. In a large bowl, combine all ingredients; mix lightly but thoroughly.

Cut tomatoes in wedges. Arrange wedges to resemble the petals of a flower on individual salad plates. Center each with a mound of kraut and garnish with sprigs of parsley. Serve with broiled fish fillets or cold cuts.

Swedish Sauerkraut Salad
(Makes 6 servings)

One No. 2 can sauerkraut, ½ cup chopped celery, 1 cup canned kidney beans, ¼ cup chili sauce.

Place can of sauerkraut in refrigerator and chill overnight or several hours. Open can of the sauerkraut and drain off juice. In a bowl, combine all ingredients; mix lightly but thoroughly. Chill several hours before serving.

MENU

BREAKFAST: Cranberry and pineapple juice, jelly omelet, toasted English muffins, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Clam chowder, pilot crackers, butter or fortified margarine, fresh fruit salad, peanut butter cookies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Frozen fish fillets, sauerkraut summer salad, and buttered zucchini, fresh peach cobbler, iced coffee, milk.

Agriculture Department

In spite of adverse weather conditions over many parts of the State, the 1951 Missouri State Fair Agriculture displays were above average. There were seven county booths with Pettis taking first place, followed by Morgan and Moniteau. Corn was from the 1950 crop and small grain was in this season's growing.

Wynard E. Aslin and Lloyd E. Cavannah, both of Columbia served as crops judges. M. W. Crabtree, Chillicothe is superintendent of the department.

All seed were entered early and had germination tests made before the show.

Lasting Reward

Charlie Gibson, 7, who found and returned $250 belonging to an ice cream company in St. Louis, Mo., prepares to start collecting his reward — all the ice cream he can eat for a month — Aug. 20. Presenting Charlie with a $25 defense bond as part of the reward is W. H. Volkmar, an official of the company. A sack containing the money was dropped by an employe of the ice cream firm who was on his way to a bank to make a deposit. (AP Wirephoto)
